Prologue

A ROSE SONG

Now is the delicate time of the year
When buds are uncovered and roses appear
To nod in the gardens and dance on the sprays
That grace the green hedges along the wild ways
Woven in wreaths
The white rose breathes
Faint showerings of perfume at parties and dances,
In bunches and sprays
The red rose displays
A beauty ignored, while her wearer gets glances.
Banked into tiers about the bright lights
The breast-rounded petals uncurve their delights
That droop-fade-are gone
At the coming of dawn,
When taxis turn homewards and card-players yawn.

But in the far lanes, with a rose-felt delight
The wild ones unclose at the going of night,
Shake down their dew on the wing of the wren
And gleam on the briar that grows in the glen!

Now is that delicate time of the year
When roses hang heavy and visions appear.
The rose in a girdle, the rose in a braid
Is twisted round England's wave-listening shade.
Swing it and ring it,
Chime it and sing it,
And praise the sweet hour in which roses were made!

Conaty's accreditation is valid for five years. Approaching the end of these five years, an evaluation committee from the Western Assn. of Schools and Colleges visited the school on February 16, 17, and 18. The members of the evaluation committee from WASC included: Brother Eugene Ward, F.S.C. (chm.), Rev. Richard Albert, Sister Hope Coughig, O.S.B., Sister Carmel, Mr. Harland D. Eslinger, and Sister Carol Ann, D.C.

Administration, Faculty and Students unite

The administration began preparations for the comprehensive overview of the departmental organization and instructional operation at Conaty in October, 1969. The purpose of the study was to view the strengths and weaknesses of the total educational area at Conaty.

The study was continued this year under the direction of Sister Rita with the aid of five committees: the Steering Committee, the Administration Committee, the Representative Faculty Committee, the Classified Staff Committee, and the Student Committee.

The Steering Committee prepared and finalized the materials which were presented to WASC by the department chairmen and school committees. This committee also had to be prepared to defend the contents of the reports. This committee consisted of Father O'Brien, Sister Marie Elaine, and Sister Rita.

The Administration Committee met each day during the evaluation period with the group from WASC to listen to their commendations and recommendations and to respond to any questions from the WASC evaluators. This committee includes Rev. O'Brien, Sister Rita, Sister Eileen, and Sister Marie Elaine.

The Representative Faculty Committee, in their report, explained what progress Conaty had made in the last five years, how the school had responded to the recommendations of the last Evaluation Committee, and how the program of studies functions. Membership in the committee included Sister Dolora (Chm.), Sister Inmaculada, Sister Mary Jean, Mr. Charles Spurgeon, and Miss Virginia Pranik.

The Classified Staff Committee reported on the work situations of all the people working on the premises who are not faculty members. This group included Mrs. Susan Vejar (Chm.), Mrs. Helen Schnoor, and Mrs. Eugene Ruedas.

The Student Committee, headed by Senora Sam, reported the student views on the purpose of school, the instructional program, counseling and guidance, the student activity program, and student-teacher-parent relations.

Sister Carol Ann and Rev. Albert find time for a cup of coffee and relaxing conversation.

Sister Carmel, Brother Ward, and Mr. Eslinger study the reports.

Sister Marie Elaine (center) shows Sister Hope Couhig and Sister Carmel around the campus.

Brother Eugene Ward ponders over his final decision.

Sister Mary Jean, Mrs. Cardinale, Miss Pranik, Sister Marie DeLourdes, and Sister Margaret meet regularly to discuss faculty-student activities.

Sister Rosaleen, Miss Selby, Francine Ivery and Cheryl Ratliff examine the texture of various uniform skirts.

Mrs. Kalman, Mrs. Gayle, Mrs. Patin and Sister Euphemia await the report and recommendations of the WASC Evaluation Committee.

Sister Dolora and Miss Abend chat while Sister Dolores Marie and Sister Marie de Lourdes discuss the English curriculum with Mr. Noyes.

Sister Marie Elaine studies the variety of patterns and colors available for the new uniforms.

Sister Rosaleen smiles in approval of the different uniforms displayed by Mr. Carlstone.

The WASC Evaluation Committee presents their findings at the final meeting with the faculty.

The Steering Committee listens as Brother Eugene Ward comments on the reports submitted by the school committees.

Cheryl Ratliff explains her views on student-teacher relations.

The Student Committee awaits questions from the WASC evaluators.

WASC Evaluation Committee

Sister Rosaleen smiles happily as she finishes stacking the cups.

The evaluation proved to be rewarding and enlightening. It was a positive means of uniting all school members.

At the end of the evaluation period, the WASC Evaluation Committee expressed their approval of the reports and made recommendations for improvements. Official notice of accreditation will arrive in April.

Miss Murphy, Miss Pranik, Sister Mary Catherine, and Sister Marian Joseph await the committee's report.

Mr. King, Sister Stephen Joseph, Mr. Spurgeon, Mr. Noyes, and Sister Rosaleen rejoice over the completion of the WASC report.

Sister Rosemary puts the finishing touches on the refreshment table.

Dear Starlets,

Not too many years ago a person who wrote a letter or gave a talk to high school seniors at graduation time went unchallenged with statements like, "Now you have learned what you need to know and are prepared to go into the world." This is 1971, however, and the message today is far different. The sum total of the world's knowledge now doubles every five years, while only a few decades ago doubling required 1500 years. The amount of material published during the relatively short lifetime of a Conaty freshmen equals all that had been published from the dawn of civilization until 1957. Most people presently in school will retrain for three different careers during their working lives because their jobs will have become outdated. Today's message, then, sounds a frightening but exciting, "We hope you have learned how to learn, because you will never be able to stop learning."

You have shown, during your years here, that you learned what the Conaty Spirit means, and I genuinely appreciate the leadership and enthusiastic loyalty you have set as a standard for other classes to follow. You obviously learned the values of friendship, too, as evidenced by your manner with both students and teachers. You learned, in short, to hold important things dear and to be open to what is new—and in 1971 how we all need that!

Sincerely,

George O'Brien

Conaty students now receive

For the first time in Conaty's history, the students will receive credit for their religion courses due to a slight change from Religion to Ethics.

Another change in the Religion Department is that the marriage course, which was previously one semester's work, has been extended into two semesters work because of the lack of time to treat the subject thoroughly. The Juniors learn about the financial side of marriage: family budgeting, management of money, and child development. The second half of the course is taken in the Senior year. The emphasis then is placed on the psychological side of marriage: Buber's I-Thou relationship and dialogue.

A Junior religion class has a "romping" time at Valyermo.

English Department undergoes

Experimentation is the key factor in this year's English Department. The English courses taken by Juniors and Seniors were revised; instead of giving the students a smattering of this and a smattering of that, the courses permit the students to familiarize themselves with a particular area of English. The students choose two courses from a selection of nine, which includes Advanced Composition, Business English, Communication Arts, Power Reading, Story in Prose and Poetry, Novel, Dramatic Literature, Thematic Study of Man and Society, and Contemporary Communication. Basic to all the courses is vocabulary development.

Advanced Composition stresses competency in expository writing. It includes a study of the procedures for a term paper.

Business English offers the student a chance to delve into the basics of business communications—grammar, punctuation, and correspondence.

Communication Arts emphasizes both oral and written skills. It focuses on sentence and paragraph construction and punctuation.

Power Reading includes speed, comprehension, and critical analysis.

Story in Prose and Poetry is designed to analyze the various styles of the short story, the short novel, and narrative poetry.

The Novel invites the students to examine the structure and style in novels and to explore the insights of modern novelists.

Dramatic Literature underscores the role dramatists have played in reflecting the human scene. Also included in the course is some historical background and development of drama.

Thematic Study of Man and Society includes investigation and discussion of novels, stories, essays, poems, and films that highlight the different attitudes and values of men as revelatory of man's innerself. Also included in the course are examples of minority literature and science fiction.

Contemporary Communication stresses analysis of film, T.V. recordings, and creative and critical writing.

The History Department, under the direction of Sister Dolora, strives to enrich the students' understanding of the world in which they live by delving into the various facets of the world. The World History course encompasses the events dating from the Paleolithic Age to the events in the world today. After focusing on the present, the students investigate the geography, customs, and economy of different countries. Then they zoom in on the political, economic, and social conditions which influenced the growth of the United States. Upon the completion of this course, the students must undertake the study of American problems, economics, sociology, and current events.

New teachers renovate

The Science Department, headed by Sister Anna, is comprised of three new teachers who are trying to instill certain ideals and concepts into their students while revealing the mysteries of biology, physiology, and chemistry. In biology, the students investigate the theory of evolution, cell structure and function, classification of the animal and plant kingdoms, and the forms of chemical energy. In physiology, the students develop a growing awareness of the mechanism of the body. In chemistry, the students discover the world of atoms, molecules, elements, and chemicals. These classes include not only lecture periods but also lab periods where the students apply what they have learned during the various lectures.

A chemistry experiment holds the girls' interest.

Vocational Arts course prepares students

Every woman should be able to manage her own home. The Vocational Arts course, taught by Miss Somogyi, includes three phases: cooking, clothing, and home management. In addition to learning how to cook, the girls learn about the basic nutrients needed in a balanced diet. In clothing, the girls discover a means by which they can save money and still have clothes which are in vogue. But most important in home management, they learn how to budget their money.

Jocelyn Hayes, Helen Ornelas and Sylvia Gonzales apply the finishing touches before Miss Somogyi's inspection.

Students practice

Art, undertaken by Sister Stephen Joseph, investigates not only the art of drawing but many other art forms. The Art I course includes lessons in Chancery lettering, landscape painting, making prints, making picture frames and drawing human body and face. Art II emphasizes creating woodcuts and wire and metal sculptures. Advanced Art takes in the study of dominance and subordination, of special watercolor techniques, mastering of spherical shapes and understanding of the cubistic style of painting.

Interspersed with these sports, the girls learn the foundations for First Aid and Health.

Then, in their Sophomore year, the girls begin Drivers Education with a course discussing the rules and reguations set forth in the California Motor Vehicle Code.

Music through the ages —

Music and Music Appreciation are taught by Sister Mary Catherine. She teaches the girls how to sing hymns and songs which spans the time from the origin of "Ave Maria" to contemporary songs like "We've Only Just Begun." Utilizing the record player and records, Sister Mary Catherine attempts to teach her students how to distinguish good music from bad music.

Clubs and Activities

Student Council emphasizes

The 1971 Student Council, led by Senora Sam and moderated by Sister Eileen, discovered the need to revise Conaty's government and to involve more students in Student Council activities. Its membership includes the Student Body and Class officers, the Presidents of Christian Action Movement, Calif. Scholarship Fed., Nat. Honor Society, Girls Athletic Assn., and the editors of the Conaty Review and the Pallium. Under the theme "We've Only Just Begun," emphasis was placed on student involvement and revision of the school constitution. Various committees were established—among them the Ecology, Constitutional Revision, and the Theme Committees.

ASB Officers and Senior Control seek to improve efficiency

Senora Sam, as Student Body President, attends various functions as Conaty's representative. She presides at Student Council meetings and plans Student Council activities with the help of the other officers.

Vice-President Cheryl Ratliff assists Senora and acts as head of Senior Control.

As Secretary, Margarita Rivera takes the minutes at the Student Council meetings.

Treasurer Frances Renteria manages all money obtained from and for student activities.

Conaty has two service organizations: Senior Control and Service Board.

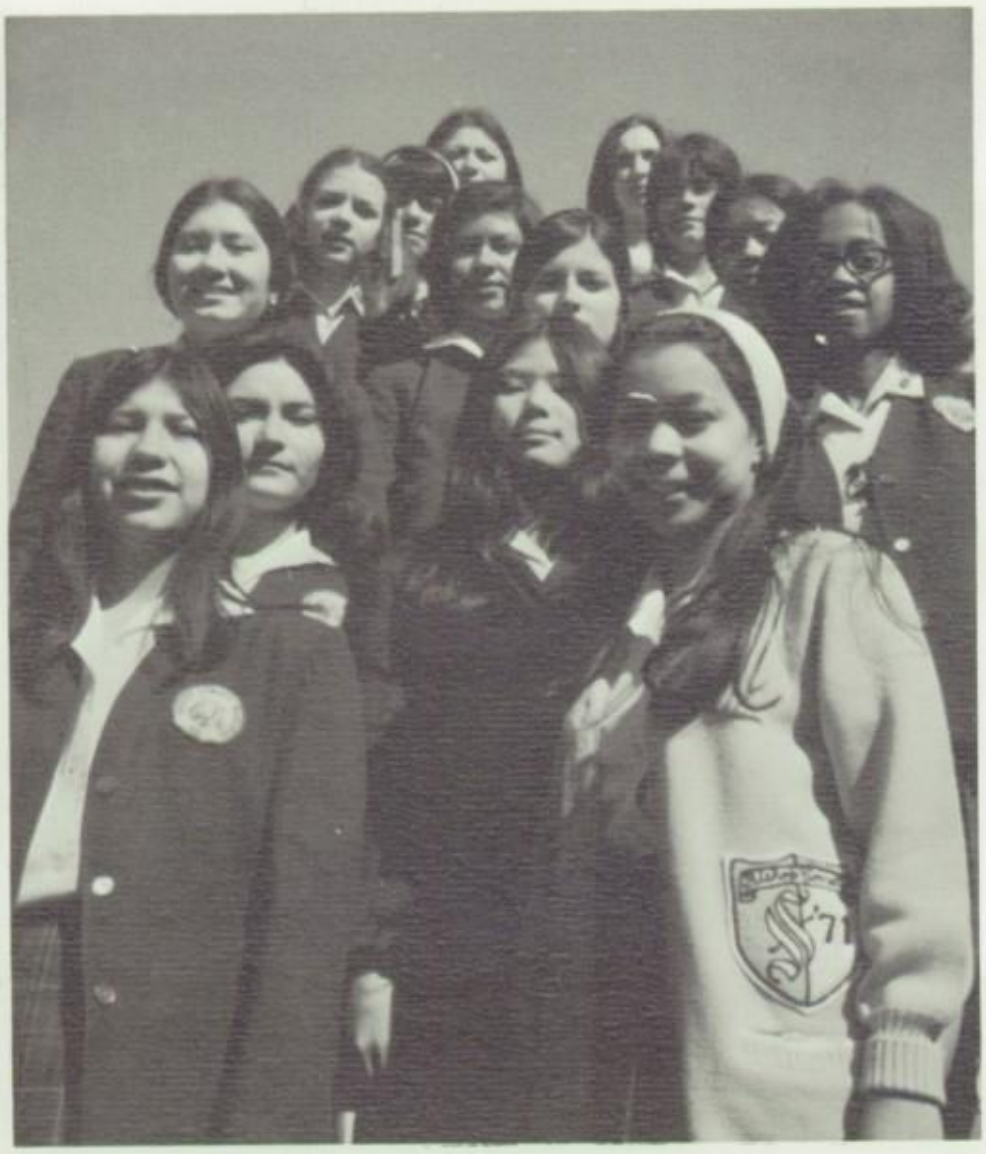
The Senior Control, headed by Cheryl Ratliff, serves as traffic coordinator for the entire student body.

The Service Board, which is comprised of outstanding members of the Sophomore Class, is one of the backbones in maintaining order in the halls, and in the cafeteria.

Bernette Smith reminds the girls to observe silence in the chapel area.

Carol Fregoso and Lisa Jaquez keep a watch for offenders of school regulations.

CSF increases membership



ROW 1: Patricia Estrada, Cheryl Ratliff. ROW 2: Maria Jimenez, Francine Takai. ROW 3: Georgina Joya, Olivia Davila, Arlene Dickerson. ROW 4: Martha Hetzler, Dolores Cabrera, Gloria Chow. ROW 5: Martha Salas, Lucilla Ramirez, and Gloria DiMatteo.

The membership of Conaty's chapter of the California Scholarship Federation has increased to a large extent. Due to a change in the standard constitution of the CSF, many girls, previously ineligible, now qualify for membership. Moderator: Sister Ann. Officers: Evelyn Destouet, President; Ana Caballero, Vice-President; Diane Cudal, Secretary.

The National Honor Society is not an active organization; it is merely a means of recognizing those students who have performed well in school. Membership is obtained when the student has a B average and no lower than a B in Ethics.

CSF Officers: Ana Maria Caballero, Vice-President; Diane Cudal, Secretary; Evelyn Destouet, President.

Monsignor Montrose congratulates Rosa Duron, winner of a $1,000 Sawyer Business College Scholarship.

Rosa Duron was the first student from Conaty to win the Dwight D. Eisenhower Scholarship. Among the ninety applicants for the scholarship, there were twenty-one semifinalists and ten winners. The scholarship was presented to Rosa at the scholarship award program at Immaculate Conception Hall on February 26, 1971. Rosa intends to pursue a career as an executive secretary.

Emphasis placed on Christian ideals

The Sacristans is a group of girls who prepare the vestments, linen, cruets, and other utensils used in the celebration of Mass. This organization consists of Freshmen trainees under the direction of Janet Oram. The Sacristans is a very dedicated and determined group of students who work to their fullest ability.

Final touches are added to the altar before Mass begins.

Janet Oram instructs trainees on how to prepare the altar for Mass.

The Christian Action Movement is an organization which was developed to provide students with an extra-curricular opportunity to share, learn, and grow in true Christian spirit through activities with the group itself, the student body, and the community. The club was responsible for two can drives, Christmas caroling, and the Tidings Drive.

Library and Red Cross serve needs of others

Miss Susan Kabot
Librarian

The center of research at Conaty is the library. This year there has been an intensive effort to increase the resources available to the students. Most instrumental in this effort was the Claretian Seminary, which donated a number of books. In addition to the books, the school acquired the Encyclopedia Barsa through school funds.

Shelly Allen and Jocelyn Hayes assist Miss Kabot in running the library.

Kira McCoy checks out books for Barbara Tallon.

The main activity of the Red Cross is to raise the morale of patients in convalescent homes. For occasions such as Thanksgiving, the members made party favors and distributed them among the patients at the neighboring convalescent hospitals. Then for Christmas, the Red Cross collected gifts for children of needy families. Moderator: Mr. Richard Laymon, Officers: Therese Chavira, President; Lily Garcia, Vice President; Maria Saborio, Secretary-Treasurer.

Lily Garcia and Maria Saborio explain the next Red Cross project.

Awareness of Spanish culture stressed

The Spanish Club attempted to promote the Spanish culture through such activities as a variety show, the Guadalupe Procession, and the Pan American Assembly. They also sponsored a drive for clothes, toys, and household goods for the victims of the Peruvian earthquake. Moderator: Sister Mariarosa. Officers: Lisa Olivas, President; Olivia Davila, Vice President; Lisa Smith, Treasurer; Martha Eagar, Secretary.

The Spanish Club Board Members plan their future activities.

Margarita Rivera dances the Cumbia.

Theresa Aguilar performs a dance originating around the time of the Mexican Revolution.

Drama Club presents Alice in Wonderland

Debbie Porter, Wanda Reed and Dana Snipes go over the scene again, while Selena Provost watches with a critical eye.

The Drama Club participated in several Speech Tournaments and some of the members attempted a debate team.

The majority of the year, however, was devoted to the production of Alice In Wonderland. After much practice the performance was delivered free of charge to elementary school students. The costumes for the play were designed by Mrs. Nelson and Diane Gradney. Moderator: Mrs. Kathleen Nelson. La Nita Williams, President; Asilee Parkinson, Vice President; Irene Martinez, Secretary; Yetter Ware, Treasurer.

Dana Snipes demonstrates to Wanda Reed the correct way to sharpen knives, in "The Body is All Yours".

Glee Club presents St. Cecelia's Day Concert

The Glee Club delivered two performances this year: the St. Cecelia's Day Concert and the Spring Concert. Featured songs included "Traces", " A Time For Us" and "We've Only Just Begun".

The 1970-71 Cecelians

Officers: Arlene Dickerson, Lynson Perry, Asilee Parkinson, Lila Johnson, and Brenda Simon.

Art Guild offers work in a variety of art forms

Art Guild Officers: Vicky Shipp, President; Janet Oram, Vice-President.

Martha Duran enjoys learning the art of macrame.

Art Guild Secretary Janice Tanaka carefully selects a place for her ornaments.

The Art Guild provides students, who were unable to get an art class into their schedule, with the opportunity to work with art forms. The girls work on jewelry, printing, silkscreening and weaving. Moderator: Sister Stephen Joseph. Officers: Vicky Shipp, President: Janet Oram, Vice-President; Janice Tanaka, Secretary.

Programs prepare students for future jobs

The Business Girls' Association strives to enlighten the members about the business world. They had speakers from Vianne Woodard, Sawyer Business College, Trade-Technical College, Kelly Girls and the Telephone Company, who spoke on different job opportunities. Moderator: Mrs. Gayle. Officers: Maria Saborio, President; Pat Cabrera, Vice-President; Lily Garcia, Treasurer; Ofelia Tallon, Secretary.

President Maria Saborio and Vice-President Lily Garcia conduct a BGA meeting.

Conaty's Tutorial Program is a branch of the Crenshaw Tutorial Program. Girls from Conaty who volunteer their services as tutors are sent to St. Thomas and St. Bridget. The girls tutor elementary school students in math and reading.

The main purpose of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine training class is to prepare students to teach religion. This class is open to any one who wishes to join. The main topic of their lectures is child psychology. Meeting every Wednesday afternoon, the students work toward a student diploma.

Isabel Banuelos tutors children from St. Thomas School.

Tutor Adair Fox consoles Sabina Slaughter.

Math Club sharpens computing skills through games

Along with the Math Club members, Sister Immaculada marks the correct answer on her Math-O board.

Vicky Felix, President, calls out the Math-O numbers.

The Math Club at Conaty meets Tuesday afternoons. Although they don't qualify for Mu Alpha Theta, the National High School Mathematics Club, Conaty's math club follows its rules and regulations closely. This year the members traced the history of numbers, played mathematical games and studied the lives of the great mathematicians. Moderator: Sister Immaculada. Officers: Victoria Felix, President; Arlene Dickerson, Vice President; Cheryl Kinard, Secretary; Donna White, Treasurer.

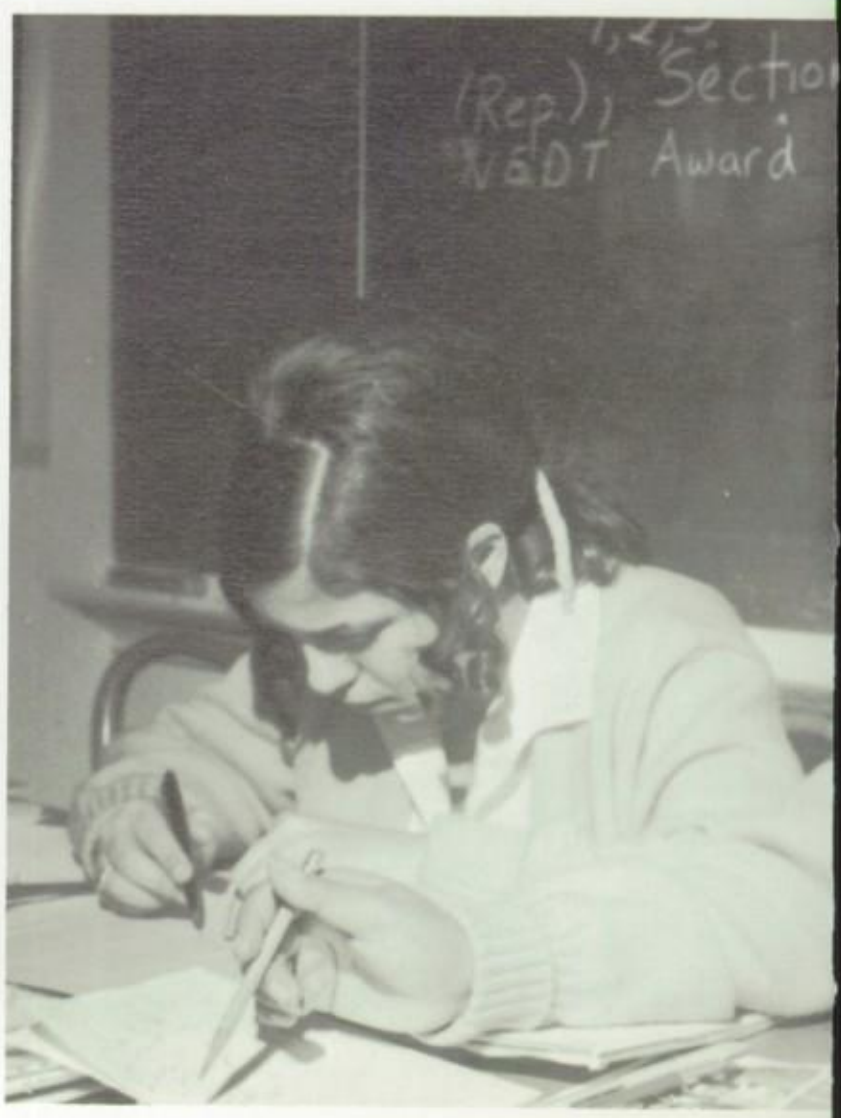
Sister Immaculada and Fay Thomson lay down their chips during a Math-O game.

Pallium Staff '71 labors to transform

The Pallium Staff 1970-71 set out to make the '71 Pallium the best yearbook we possibly could. Many obstacles lay in the path, however, as we soon discovered. The Pallium being a senior publication, no one on the staff had the least notion of how to begin such an enormous undertaking; but with the ready help of Mr. Zavack, our American Yearbook representative, and the firm guidance of Miss Pranick, our moderator, we finally managed to produce a yearbook without first going bankrupt by missing deadlines or losing our minds permanently. Moderator: Miss Pranik. Editor-in-Chief: Gloria DiMatteo; Asst. Ed: Bernette Smith; Layout Eds. Carmel Vela, Antonia Coto; Copy Ed. Gloria Chow; Business Manager; Gilda Cardenas; Art Ed. Sonia Gonzalez; Photographers: Marina Carerra, Maria Guerrero.

Gloria Chow organizes her notes for the next copy staff meeting.

Gloria DiMatteo discusses the development section with Bernette Smith.



Antonia Coto and Carmel Vela count off the picas for the copy blocks. Antonia and Carmel designed all 160 layouts in the Pallium.

made in Conaty's newspaper

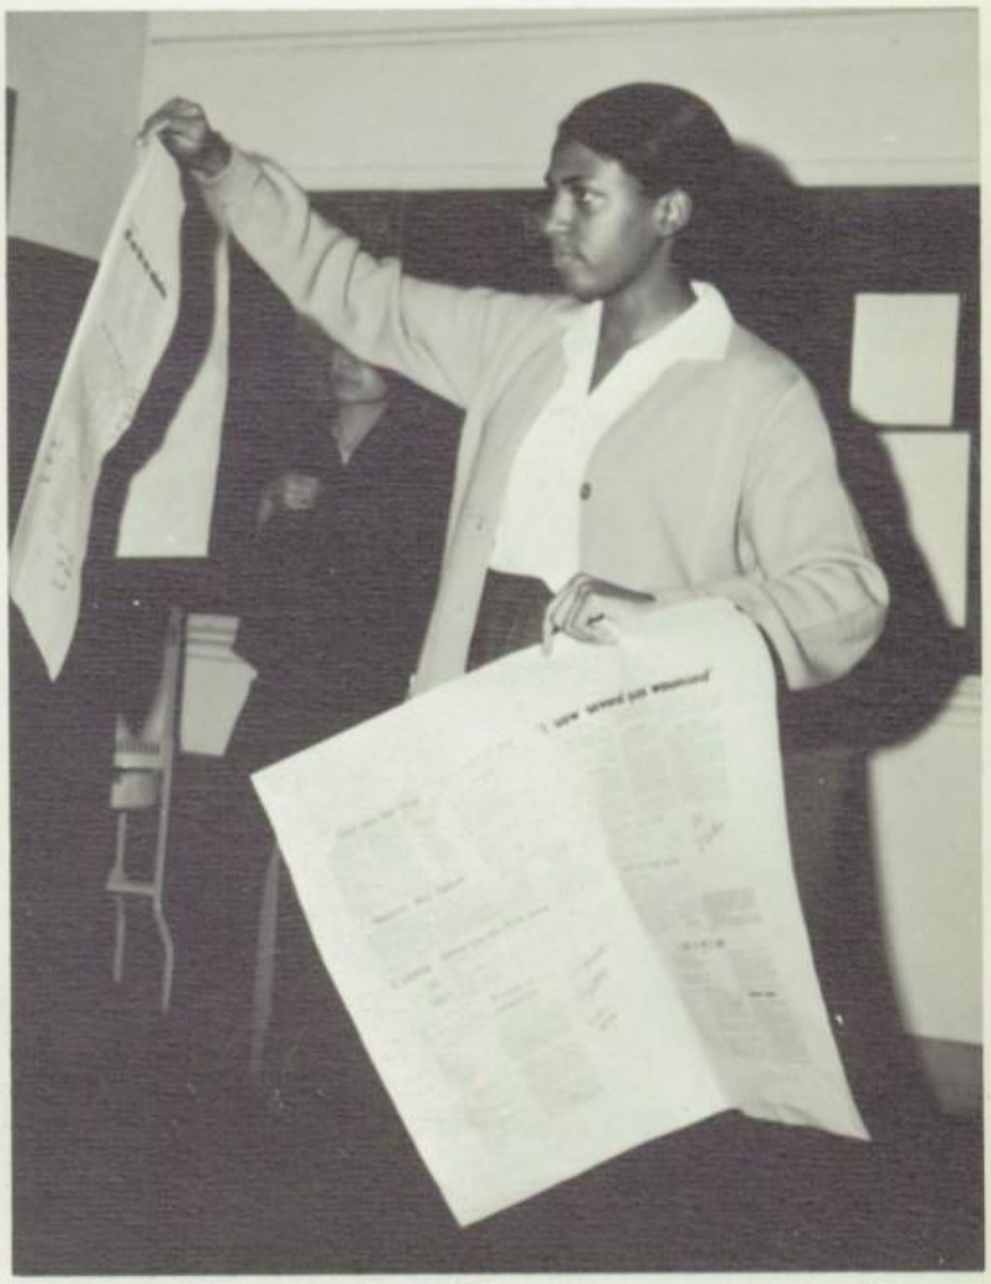
Mr. Spurgeon wears a non-committal expression as he nears the end of Angela Gradney's article.

The newspaper staff moves into their new quarters with their customary orderliness.

Formerly known as Campus Rumors, Conaty's newspaper received a change in name to Conaty Review. The reason behind the change was the staff's belief that the primary purpose of a newspaper is to quell rumors.

Along with the name change, the newspaper is now printed on a different type of paper. But with these changes came a crisis—lack of funds. Thus, the Conaty Review may become non-existent. Moderator: Mr. Charles Spurgeon. Editor-in-Chief: Paula Brown; Managing Ed.: Jonita Bigelow; Editorial Manager: Angela Gradney; Layout Ed.; Norma Vasquez; Asst. Layout Ed.: Marilyn Wilson; Photographer: Ana Maria Caballero.

Another branch of journalism at Conaty is the Literary Magazine. Published at the end of the year, this magazine contains selected pieces of writing and art work which were composed and created by Conaty students.



Paula Brown examines the proofs of the coming issue of the Conaty Review for general appearance and layout.

Student Body welcomes

The Student Body in collaboration with the Student Council welcomed Father O'Brien and Sister Eileen to Conaty; however, they first had to perform specific tasks.

Sister Eileen became a chef and tossed the Conaty "salad". After his coronation by the Student Body, Father O'Brien was confronted with tasks by representatives from each class. Father and Sister seemed to have enjoyed the initiation as much as the initiators did.

Rachel Suarez assists Sister Eileen with her apron.

Brenda Simon is clubbed by Senora Sam.

This year in place of the Freshmen Initiation, the Starlet Class of '71 held a "Welcoming Day" for their Frosh little sisters.

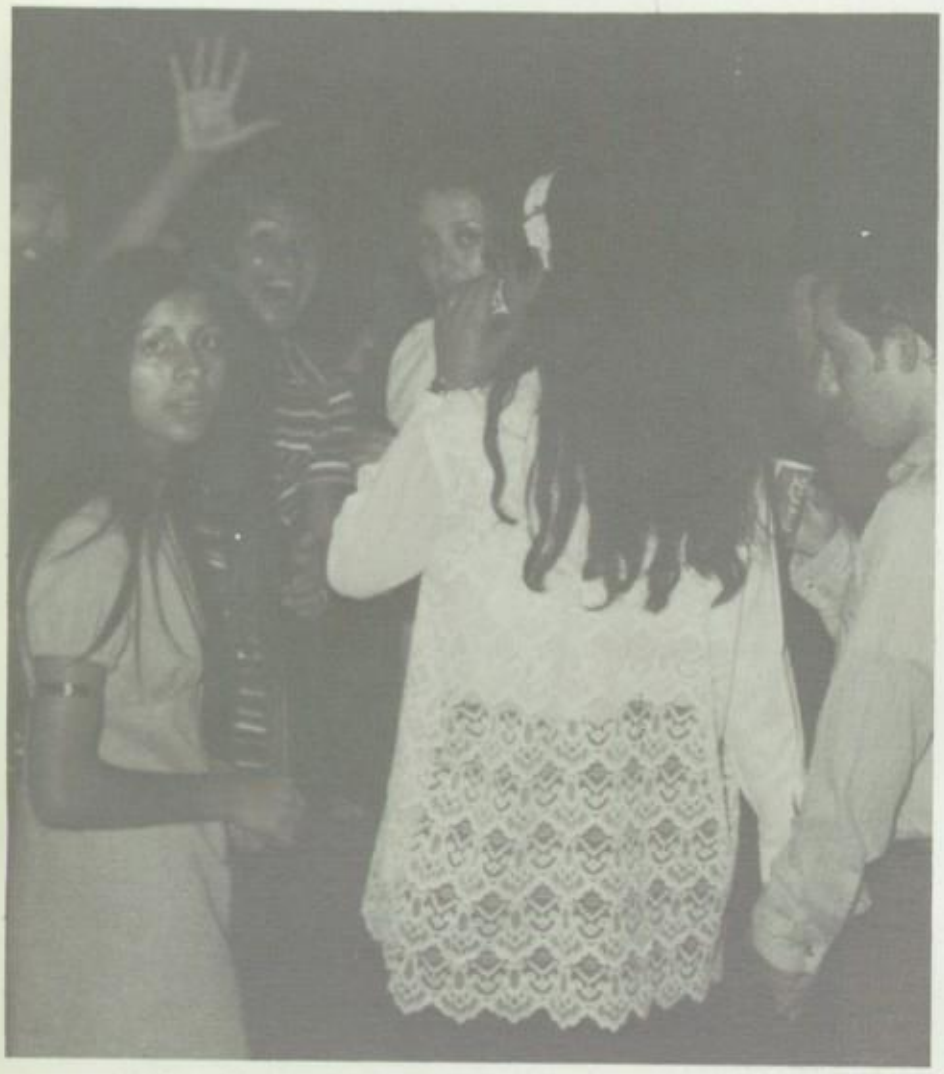
The freshmen participated in such activities as a watermelon eat-in, musical chairs and a Senior-Frosh "cat and mouse" game.

Fun and good times were the orders of the day.

"Fall In" leads to plans for open dances

The place and time for Conaty's first dance was Queen of Angels' Hall, November 10,1970. The hall was decorated with leaves, flowers, and streamers in autumnal colors to concur with the theme, "Fall In." Chosen to play for the occasion was the Esseks Revue.

The significance of this dance was that its success meant the possibility of having open dances at later dates.



Conaty girls and their escorts have a great time at the dance.

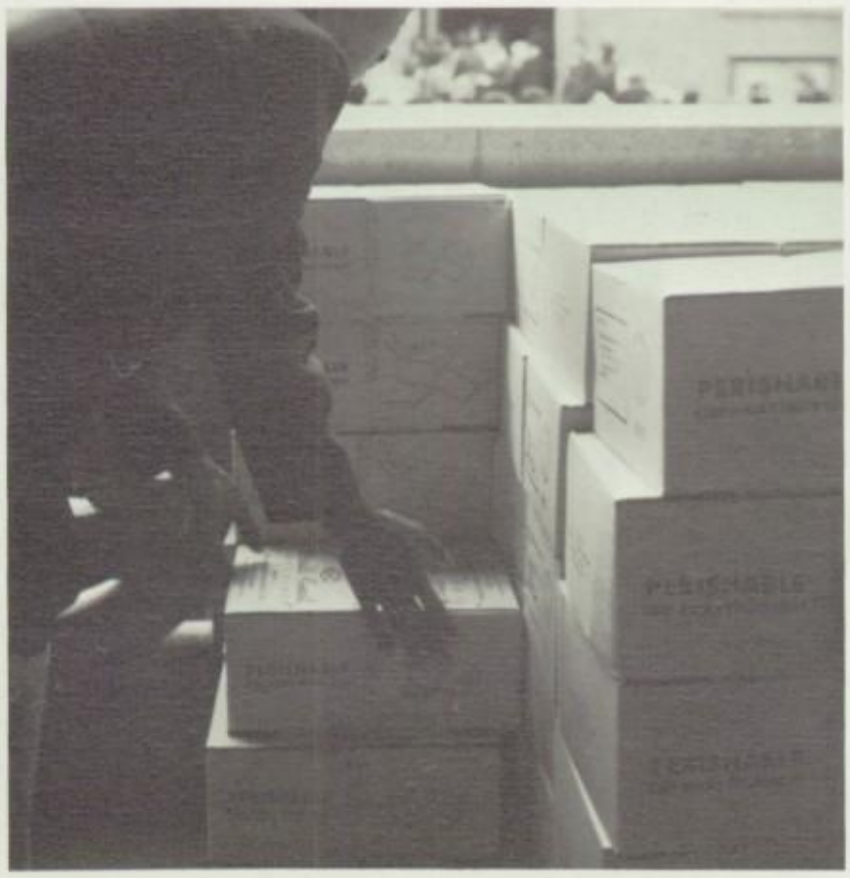
Lucy Ramos and Mary Helen Flores wait for customers at the coke booth.

Pamela McNealy has a tete a tete with her impatient escort.

Dancing provides a means of expression for Senora Sam and her escort.

Conaty spirit peaks during Chocolate Drive

The theme of the annual World's Finest Chocolate Drive was "The Wacky Bird Races." Each class was represented by a cartoon character: Freshmen —Baby Huey, Sophomores—Super Chicken, Juniors —Road Runner, Senior—Tweety Bird. The quota for each girl was forty-eight bars. Those who sold their quota received a holiday from school. The race began October 15th and ended October 20th with Road Runner as the winner.



Eager hands reach for World's Finest Chocolate.

Talent Show features singing and dancing acts

Determining the winner proves a difficult task for judges, Mr. Soria, Sr. Elaine, Sr. Eileen, Mrs. Jones and Sr. Marian Joseph.

The Talent Show was a combined effort of the Freshmen and Sophomore classes. Included in the show were different dancing and singing acts. The first prize went to Dorothy Henry for her imitation of Flip Wilson.

Mary Deam Randall, Jackie Polk and Micheala Johns perform a contemporary dance.

Salena Provost does her interpretation of an African dance.

Girl's Athletic Association rewards its active members

Each year girls who have acquired a certain number of points through attending games and tournaments and making posters are honored at the Girls' Athletic Association Awards Assembly. Included in the assembly is recognition of the teachers who have given their time to the GAA.

Angie Munguia proudly receives her letters from Father O'Brien.

Miss Selby, Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Smith were honored for their service as coaches and advisors to the GAA.

Junior rings arrive early

This year the Juniors received their rings earlier than usual. The ceremony began with the singing of their class song. Following that were the blessing of the rings by Father O'Brien and the singing of the Alma Mater.

The rings were cut oval, blue sapphires with a flat crest of the school on the stone and the name of the school in gold on a black background.

Simplicity presents "Computer Fashions"

The "Computer Fashion Show" this year was sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Co. and presented by Miss McKinley. Models of various sizes were selected from the student body a week before the show and practices were held daily. As a prelude to the show, Miss McKinley gave an explaination on the fashions. Featured were the mini, midi, maxi lengths. The latest sportswear with special emphasis on the reversable coordinated vests and jackets were also included.

Miss McKinley distributes outfits to her enthusiastic models.

To Pat

Well Pat it looks like we're finally getting out of our conaty & then we'll be on our own. Its been fun knowing you guys. And I do & cookie & eating lunch with you gang. I'll miss all of you & hope Pat that you'll decide what you're gonna be in life and that some day Mr. right is gonna come your way & then I know. I just stay as you are and keep your little and funny as you are. And keep luck in the world. And us as soon as you walk out the door all the as you got your diploma. So be good & take care. just because you're always a friend

To Pat the fat Spider, well Pata Pata, the time has finally come to say Goodbye, you know Pat I've been waiting so long for graduation but I'm sad that the time is near to come to an end because I've grown to love you and know you like a little sister in such a very special way and I'm really sad that I'm not going to see you every day and miss you like crazy but I'm glad that I've had the opportunity to have you as a friend. I remember when you were born and I was only 3 years old and I'll always remember you as a cute little baby and I'm gonna miss you when you're a big old lady, but I'll always remember you as a little girl with pigtails and braces and I'm typing to say. Pat I know you know that I'll always remember you with fondness. Then sophomore year with Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Williams and Pat every June we say to each other for 3 years, "I'll see you next year" and that any more I can't say that other things will linger on forever in this world because each other's been a part of all the retarted things we've done and I'll always remember you as a friend to cheat with and I hope you will forever be putting up with me! I gave you a pen pal of speach that I wrote in September, and you're a Panamá. and sometimes OR spider. But I really and wasn't goodbye, but I think sincerely hope this goodbye isn't forever. Remember me! Love forever and until eternity

well i got to know you a little i really think you're an out-a-sight . . . very, or real person - you don't put on facts . . . that's why i like you . . .

see, if you would answer my letters a little more we could have really gotten to know each-other well . . .

but, at least we got to know shari . . . lord . . an experience all in it's self - nope . . . she's really nice . . . that's why i like her . . . but i wanted to get to know Pat . . . the quiet pat in the role of seats by the window . . . but now you'll be graduating -

what i know of you i'm glad of - you're very sensitive - i identify with you in so many ways i'm sensitive too . . . have a good prom nite, (if you decide to go) and try not to forget the little that you do know about me i won't forget you
